Thanks Tara. The air quality monitoring stations around the roster appear to be down to 3 as stated in the AECOM report:

The fourth unit was down for maintenance due to pump failure (Unit 2). The backup unit (Unit 1) was sent back to the manufacturer for a diagnostic, and a replacement backup unit has not yet been received from the manufacturer.

When will all of these units be operational and back at the site? How has the contractor compensated for the loss of one of the operational units around the roaster complex?
