Opportunities for Community Engagement

Materials Circulated for Comment by Parties

During the course of this proceeding, Board staff will review all evidence filed by the parties. These efforts are intended to identify issues or concerns which must be addressed in the licence and to resolve them, if possible, before the close of the proceeding. In order to focus these discussions, staff will prepare and circulate a draft licence for comment. This process allows parties to address the proposed terms and conditions for the licence in their presentations to the Board and to prepare argument setting out their positions with respect to these provisions at the close of the proceeding.

These staff efforts to develop and circulate a draft licence and permit should focus discussion on appropriate terms and conditions for this authorization. The Board is not bound by the contents of any of these draft materials and will make its decision at the close of the proceeding on the basis of all the evidence and arguments filed by all parties.
