YKDFN - Yellowknife	Todd Slack, GIS Specialist and liaison for proponents	19/10/2010; 1401 PST	Explained that after discussions with regulators, it was felt that #MV2004C0001 permit should remain as is. At the end of the day, there will be one permit for Lac de Gras Project and one permit for DO-27 Project.	Peregrine E-mail: Reponse to T. Slack.
Akaiitcho Treaty #8 Tribal Corp. - Interim Measures Agreement Implementation Office	Stephanie Poole, Screening Officer	19/10/2010; 1507 PST	S. Poole advised that Lac de Gras Project area is "near and within" overlap area between YKDFN and LKDFN, but "at this point in time", YKDFN should be focus of Peregrine engagement efforts.	S. Poole E-mail: Sent copies of "Guidelines" (consultation) + "Akaiitcho Exploration Agreement" template.

Akaiitcho Treaty #8 Tribal Corp. - Interim Measures Agreement Implementation Office	Stephanie Poole, Screening Officer	20/10/2010; 1220 PST	Asked S. Poole: What interface is there between IMA office and the other competing interests? How is the balancing of competing interests working in a practical way?	Peregrine e-mail: Asked for suggestions, given Akaiitcho understanding of the complexity involved in land-use permits that overlap jurisdictions. Noted that renewals would keep Lac de Gras (and later, the DO-27 project) on care-and-maintenance with same activities as in existing permits.
YKDFN - Yellowknife	Todd Slack, GIS Specialist and liaison for proponents	25/10/2010; 1531 PST	Akaiitcho IMA does not "interface" with other consultee groups, though overlap protocols could be developed in future. YKDFN recommends Exploration Agreement as best approach. Asks again about combining all permits (Lac de Gras and DO-27) into a single permit. Stated that any renewal would be judged upon activities, even if they weren't changing, not care-and-maintenance.	T. Slack E-mail. Outcome: See "Issues or Topic" column at LEFT. NOTE: At this juncture, YKDFN became lead contact, as T. Slack explained that anything sent to Akaiitcho Implementation Ofc would end up with YKDFN lands ofc, in any event.

YKDFN - Yellowknife	Todd Slack, GIS Specialist and liaison for proponents	30/11/2010; 1738 PST	Peregrine supplies report on planned project activities to T. Slack and YKDFN Exec. Assistant Kelly Cumming. (Phone: 867-766-3496. tslack@ykdene.com kelly@ykdene.com)	Outcome: Peregrine supplies rpt requested by T. Slack on 23 November 2010, along with a map depicting proposed drill target + all registered archaeology sites in project area. YKDFN - Yellowknife	Todd Slack, GIS Specialist and liaison for proponents	01/12/2010; 1250 PST	T. Slack e-mail response to Peregrine, with questions. (Phone: 867-766-3496. tslack@ykdene.com kelly@ykdene.com)	Outcome: T. Slack acknowledges planned-activities rpt provided by Peregrine on 30 November 2010. T. Slack asks (1) if the extent of archaeological survey was DO-27 area; (2) though you state that winter drilling is possible, would the archaeologist + assistant conduct survey before any drilling is done? It seems as if "a look before drilling" is Peregrine's standard; (3) a concern likely to arise when meeting with Council is enforceability; "for the most part, the concerns that the First Nation have are not enforceable under the MVRMA's terms and conditions so there needs to be something extra-regulatory". T. Slack further states that once answers have been received -- THU or FRI (02 or 03 Dec) is requested -- then information will be compiled + reviewed as a whole, followed by guidance for Peregrine in how to proceed. T. Slack concludes that K. Cummings likely will be the person who makes the arrangements for Peregrine to present to Chiefs and Council. "There is a chance I can get guidance on where to go with this before Christmas shutdown. "

Ssp query: Do you want us to bring hard copies of the Powepoint presentation? T. Unka reply: Yes, that would be helpful, so people can follow along. To have enough copies for FRMC as well as the DKFN (with whom you are meeting later that day), 50 copies are recommended. Ssp: Thank you; I've made a note of that.

YKDFN - Yellowknife	Todd Slack, GIS Specialist and liaison for proponents; cc: Kelly Cumming, EA to Chief Sangris	03/12/2010; 1243 PST	Peregrine response to T. Slack e-mail of 01 Dec 2010. (Phone: 867-766-3496. tslack@ykdene.com kelly@ykdene.com)	Answers: Q #1: Was extent of arch-survey the DO-27 area? A: Yes. 2006 arch-survey covered mineral leases (DO-27 and DO-18 environs) + 6 adjoining claims, camp itself and winter spur route between Gravel Pit Lake on main Winter Rd. and DO-27 camp. This was active exploration area at the time, so it was logical to focus on that area. Q #2: Though you state winter drilling is possible, would archaeol. + asst. conduct survey before any drilling is done? It seems as if "look before drilling" is Peregrine's standard. A: Winter is optimum time to conduct drilling, because a site which might be present would be protected during this period. If target should be drilled in winter, it would be typical for area to be checked in summer, should photos indicate moderate or high potential of site presence. (Photos would be sent to consulting archaeol. to obtain expert determination as to whether field survey is warranted. Q #3: Another concern -- enforceability; First Nation concerns are not gen. enforceable under MVRMA's terms + conditions. A: All our activities are governed by terms + conditions of compliance; monitoring plans such as Spill Contingency and Abandonment & Restoration are gen. well enforced by regulators. That has been my experience over many yrs. This is not to say that Peregrine is not open to considering creative mechanism to alleviate concerns... Getting onto same pg. should not be that difficult for Peregrine + YKDFN, as we share commitment to responsible + respectful activity at all times.

Main issues raised: (1) Q-T. Unka : "Did you use sediment sleeve (when conducting large-diameter drilling on DO-27 lake)?" (2) Q-C. Heron : "Incidental observations of caribou is not adequate baseline." (3) Q-C. Heron : "We also view water quality as critical." (4) Q-FRMC member : "What's in it for us?"	Peregrine in-person replies: (1) A : Yes, Peregrine is vigilant in ensuring that no sediments or muds get into water. Peregrine also ensures that any drilling muds proposed by drilling contractor are environmentally-benign. (2) A : There's a great deal of historical data that Peregrine's consultant examined as background for the 2007 work. Initial baseline only at this point (at DO-27); should development be intended, then sufficient baseline data would be collected. (3) A : We agree; we have Kennecott's original water-quality data + almost a full year of data collected by our consultant. We realise that most area lakes are ultra-oligotrophic and require our vigilance. (4) A : At this point, we are only exploring, but this subject could be discussed if a Peregrine project in the area should advance.
DKFN - Fort Resolution	Rosy Bjornson, Interim Measures Agreement Co-ordinator	14/12/2010; 1820 MST	In-person meeting with DKFN + Council. Main issues: (1) Q : "Why was no one hired from Fort Resolution for the Lac de Gras Project?" (2) Q : "We should have been consulted when the other diamond mines were going through their (mine) permitting process, but we were left out. Also: You should be aware that we have businesses here that you could use (at your present stage) - for example, making core boxes." (3) Q : "Would we be able to have site visits?" (4) Q : "What are your views on an Exploration Agreement with DKFN?"	Peregrine in-person replies: (1) A : The Lac de Gras programmes have been of short duration and very small, but for DO-27 Project we hired 69 Aboriginal persons; 2 of those were from Fort Res. (2) A : Thank you for that information. (3) A : Peregrine is open to site visits. (4) A : The company is currently examining the Exploration Agreement.

Tlicho - Kwe Beh Working Group	Ginger Gibson, Tech. Co-ordinator, and 8 Kwe Beh Working Group members	13/10/2011; 1505 MST	In-person meeting with G. Gibson + Working Group members in YZF. After Peregrine presentation, most Working Group interest focused on diamond markets in general and queries about how DO-27 might be mined. Working Group stressed that both a Tlicho Exploration Agreement template + Land-Use Plan are being developed. Members also stated: (1) Q: In future caribou studies, will you take BHP's work at Ekati into account? (2) Q: "When are you going to consult with us? We do not consider this meeting as consultation." We have set aside Friday, 18 Nov., as a day to meet with proponents. (3) Q: "We ask you to consider hiring Tlicho workers + using Tlicho services, such as purchasing fuel."	After explaining that only ground geophysics and test-drilling of targets are planned on the 2 projects in 2012, Peregrine stressed that there are NO current mining plans. Peregrine then added: (1) A: Yes, BHP has 17 years' worth of data on caribou migration through the region, and Diavik also has data to a lesser extent. This body of information will be studied in detail if further Peregrine baseline studies are planned. (2) A: We'll make arrangements to attend and present on the final details for the 2012 programme. (3) A: Peregrine accepted several business cards, distributed our cards and stated we would look forward to contact information. NOTE: following the meeting, Peregrine requested + rec'd e-mail addresses for queries about job candidates and service companies.

YKDFN - Yellowknife	Chief Ed Sangris and Chief Ted Tsetta; also attending: Todd Slack, Regulatory Specialist (new title); Shannon Gault, EA to Chief Sangris	16/11/2011; 1140 MST	In-person meeting with YKDFN Chiefs, 1 EA, 1 regulatory specialist at Explorer Hotel, YK. Main issues raised: (1) Q : "Others use the territory, but where you are working is our territory." (2) Q : "The last time we met (January 2011) you were vague about what was planned." (3) Q : "What are the plans for DO-27 kimberlite; will there be more bulk sampling?" (4) Q : "Why do you have so many permits? This is confusing." (5) Q : "What were the results of your summer programme?"	Peregrine in-person replies: (1) A : No comment req'd; accepted the information. (2) A : We did not have a programme at that time. We do now, so we wanted to discuss what is planned and ask if you are interested in meeting again in January 2012. (3) DO-27 has already been sufficiently bulk sampled; it remains on hold, and perhaps could come into play if we discover new kimberlites of interest. (4) A : Peregrine Diamonds inherited a set of permits, 1 permit with MVLWB and 2 permits with WLWB, as this is an overlap area. The renewed MVLWB permit already has been issued; in its new WLWB application, Peregrine is seeking to consolidate the existing 2 permits into one. (5) A : We generated some interesting drill targets (through ground geophysics); if we discover kimberlites in the upcoming winter programme, this would be the first discovery in the Lac de Gras area in 4-5 years.

NSMA - Yellowknife	Sheryl Grieve, Env. & Resource Mgr.	18/11/2011; 0850 MST	In-person meeting with NSMA. Main issues raised: (1) Q : "How long are the (DO-27) mining leases for and what do you have to do to maintain them? NSMA does not feel that current "archaeological legislation or procedures adequately reflect Métis heritage." (2) Q : "What about the footprint of that 11km-long winter route?" (3) Q : "I believe that the general public have a good impression of Peregrine."	Peregrine in-person replies: (1) A : Lease term is 25 years. No assessment reporting is req'd for mineral leases; company simply pays an annual fee on each lease. The reason why Peregrine is seeking to take some claims to lease is so that exploration may continue past 10-yr. life of the claims." Peregrine then noted that the archaeol. desktop study already reported to NSMA was now under way, and NSMA would have opportunity to provide comments and a rep. to the field survey planned. (2) A : Peregrine entered into DO-27 Project with objective of confining the footprint to footprint already made by Kennecott (when it put in the infrastructure for its 1994 bulk sample): Peregrine reused existing Kennecott winter route, just as it reused the existing camp area, access trail and cuttings-deposition area." (3) A : Thank you. (No comment req'd.)
Tlichó - Kwe Beh Working Group	Ginger Gibson, Tech. Coordinator, Kwe Beh Working Group, Henry Zoe, Senior Community Director	18/11/2011; 1110 MST	In-person meeting with G. Gibson and Working Group, who queried on the following key topics: (1) Q : "Do you know the Tlichó name for the area where you are working? We can provide the name, pronunciation and meaning." (2) Q : "Vickie Francisco (Programmes & Services Mgr., Tlichó Govt.) is the main contact person for job candidates. We also sent you contact information for Tlichó companies." (3) Q : "When is the archaeology desktop study being done, and do you have a policy for cultural protection?" (4) Q : "What have you learnt about the caribou?"	Peregrine responses: (1) A : We look forward to receiving this information. (2) A : "Yes, we are pleased to report that we have received résumés already from several Tlichó communities. We also have queried contacts for companies." (3) A : The study rpt. likely will be finished in the winter; we can supply a review copy. Yes, Peregrine has an Archaeological Protocol for each area where it is working. (4) A : Our information to date, plus the 17 yrs.' worth of data collected by the diamond mines, principally Ekati, has shown that caribou do cross the Lac de Gras area projects in spring when migrating N, and in autumn, when migrating S toward the treeline. Observations, incl. the most recent wildlife log from summer 2011, indicate that caribou do forage in the project areas opportunistically, as they move about their summer range.

Peregrine e-mail with READ Receipt. "Peregrine is planning on returning to the Slave for meetings during the week of 10 January, so I am beginning to work on a draught schedule. The purpose of the meeting would be to discuss work done on the Lac de Gras and DO-27 exploration projects in 2011 (I sent letter-reports on that small programme) as well as to advise about the small drill programme planned for winter-spring 2012. Would a meeting on Wednesday, 12 January be possible? Last year, we met at 1600h in the FRMC office. It worked out well, with Chris attending from the NWTMN, so I also am sending a query to Chris, to see if he wishes to participate in the meeting, as he did last year. Thanks very much for your kind co-operation. We look forward to your response and meeting again with the FRMC." [READ receipt acknowledged at 1448h, 01 December 2011.]

LKDFN - Lutsel K'e	Mike Tollis, Manager - Wildlife, Lands & Environment Committee	12/01/2012; 1300 MST	In-person meeting with LKDFN. Main issues raised: (1) Q : "Why didn't you post jobs (for spring 2012 programme) here?" (2) Q : "We have been advised by the Akaitcho screening board that Peregrine has signed an Exploration Agreement with the Yellowknives... We want to encourage your company not to focus just on one Aboriginal group." (3) Q : "In the part of the presentation showing DO-27 reclamation, this doesn't look like indigenous plants."	Peregrine in-person replies: (1) A : "It was such a small programme ... "that we did not believe there would be enough interest to distribute the (2) postings widely", but we can provide if you feel "local workers would be interested in applying." (2) A : Thank you for that information. (3) A : "Seeding that was done was of Arctic species, but not specifically local species. The reason for this approach was to create a stable platform for native species to establish themselves as quickly as possible. This has worked rather well, as native species can now be seen emerging in the stabilised cuttings area."

Gibson e-mail: Thank for for providing the archaeology rpt.; it is not policy of the Tlicho Govt. to supply comments; separate research is conducted with a dedicated budget. In regard to the Archaeology Protocol, I regard the language about site disturbance to be "vague".
FRMC - Fort Resolution, NWTMN - Fort Smith (joint meeting)	FRMC former Env. Mgr. Tom Unka. NWTMN Aquatic Resources Co-ord. Chris Heron	12/01/2012; 1645 MST	In-person meeting with FRMC reps. + NWTMN rep. Main issues raised: (1) Q : "There used to be 318 000 ... caribou across the region, but caribou don't cross ice roads... [and burning] cheap diesel [at the mines] created a problem... Now our people have to travel 300 km or more to find caribou..." (2) Q : "What did your (2006) aquatics study say about fish species? I'll bet most of the lakes did not have fish. You probably studied just benthics." (3) Q : "What's in it for us?" (4) Q : "Why not hold just one community meeting (instead of meeting with each group in town separately)?"	Peregrine in-person replies: (1) A : Thanked FRMC for their comment. (2) A : "Like the Slave region in general, the lakes and streams studied in the DO-27 Project area showed a nice diversity of fish species: Arctic grayling, lake trout, burbot, cisco and others. All the lakes studied had fish. In addition to micro and macro invertebrates, stream and lake sediments also were sampled; sediments showed no effects from exploration. For a first-year aquatics programme, it was really quite detailed." (3) A : Jobs and contracting opportunities if the Lac de Gras/DO-27 project advances. (4) A : We agree, but that was the community's preference. We have an obligation to meet with people and we are fulfilling that obligation.

Deninoo Community Council (and Mayor Gary Bailey and SAO Tausia Lal)	Hamlet SAO Tausia Lal	12/01/2012; 1815 MST	In-person meeting with Mayor and Council. Main issues raised: (1) Q : "If you're not successful [with this exploration], will all this stuff (remaining) be taken out?" (2) Q : "Do caribou migrate through the area? What is the study area?" (3) Q : "Once you are interested in development, you will have to consider socioeconomic impacts."	Peregrine in-person replies: (1) A : Yes. (2) A : "Our observations, and about 19 yrs. of caribou data from the mines, indicate that caribou pass through the Lac de Gras area, and thus the property, in both spring and autumn... In summer, caribou may forage throughout the area... We don't know the precise routes that caribou would follow across the property, nor have we established a regional study area, ahead of determining if the project warrants resuming environmental baseline studies." (3) A : "Nothing would please us more than to be able to generate opportunities for this community... Opportunities would exist as the project advances, though mining brings more opportunities (than exploration)."
DKFN - Fort Resolution	Rosy Bjornson, Resource Management Co-ordinator [new title]	12/01/2012; 1915 MST	In-person meeting with DKFN + Council. Main issues raised: (1) Q : "Why have you done an Exploration Agreement with the Yellowknives?" (2) Q : "Every company that comes in here faces the same thing, is told the same thing (about whom to consult) by the regulators." (3) Q : "Could elders from the DKFN visit? High school graduates would be interested (in visiting), so they can see what exploration involves first-hand." (4) Q : "When we hunt caribou now, we have to go farther, (so) there has been an impact (from industry activities)." (5) Q : "Are there positions to be filled at the camp?"	Peregrine in-person replies: (1) A : "Peregrine understood that the Agreement was based upon concurrence of the other Akaitcho groups, so that it was, in fact, an Akaitcho Agreement." (2) A : "There's a lot of people that claim it (Lac de Gras area), we want to be respectful. You know we do." (3) A : Yes, elders could visit; youth would have to be at least 18. (4) A : Thanked DKFN for their comment. (5) A : There are 2 positions. We can send copies of the job postings if you wish."

Peregrine will contact the Tlicho about a TK rpt. should project advance. Re your comment about use of word "possible" in Protocol: "Please be aware that a "site" environment (its general terrain) may cover 100s or even 1000s of m ² , within which only a few artefacts may be located, thus allowing room to collect a small till sample, e.g., without encroaching within 30m of indiv. structure or feature. This is entirely within law and is a practice used by prof. archaeologists that would apply in event of large site environments only... To address concern, Peregrine will revise Protocol as follows: "Avoid any disturbance within site (which may contain several or many boulder features such as tent rings, or scatters of lithic material). If disturbance is necessary within a site of large extent, pending inspection by an archaeologist, confine any activities to a part of site where no bone, stone tools or boulder arrangements that may be archaeological in nature are situated. Set and maintain a buffer zone of at least 30m between any activity and site features."

YKDFN - Yellowknife	Todd Slack, GIS Specialist and liaison for proponents	30/11/2010; 1738 PST	Peregrine supplies report on planned project activities to T. Slack and YKDFN Exec. Assistant Kelly Cumming. (Phone: 867-766-3496. tslack@ykdene.com kelly@ykdene.com)	Outcome: Peregrine supplies rpt requested by T. Slack on 23 November 2010, along with a map depicting proposed drill target + all registered archaeology sites in project area. Also: Peregrine further states that a formal request to meet with YKDFN chiefs and council will be made via letter by Company's president; Peregrine representatives will be in Yellowknife on 13 December and are available to meet to discuss the project and any concerns.
YKDFN - Yellowknife	Todd Slack, GIS Specialist and liaison for proponents	01/12/2010; 0616 PST	Peregrine supplies requested copy of 2006 Peregrine archaeology report to T. Slack as he requested on 22 November. (Phone: 867-766-3496. tslack@ykdene.com)	Outcome: Peregrine supplies archaeology report via access link to .ftp site. (E-mail sent at 0616h this date, to notify T. Slack that archaeology report is now available for download.)
YKDFN - Yellowknife	Todd Slack, GIS Specialist and liaison for proponents	01/12/2010; 1250 PST	T. Slack e-mail response to Peregrine, with questions. (Phone: 867-766-3496. tslack@ykdene.com kelly@ykdene.com)	Outcome: T. Slack acknowledges planned-activities rpt provided by Peregrine on 30 November 2010. T. Slack asks (1) if the extent of archaeological survey was DO-27 area; (2) though you state that winter drilling is possible, would the archaeologist + assistant conduct survey before any drilling is done? It seems as if "a look before drilling" is Peregrine's standard; (3) a concern likely to arise when meeting with Council is enforceability; "for the most part, the concerns that the First Nation have are not enforceable under the MVRMA's terms and conditions so there needs to be something extra-regulatory". T. Slack further states that once answers have been received -- THU or FRI (02 or 03 Dec) is requested -- then information will be compiled + reviewed as a whole, followed by guidance for Peregrine in how to proceed. T. Slack concludes that K. Cummings likely will be the person who makes the arrangements for Peregrine to present to Chiefs and Council. "There is a chance I can get guidance on where to go with this before Christmas shutdown. "

YKDFN - Yellowknife	Todd Slack, GIS Specialist and liaison for proponents; cc: Kelly Cumming, EA to Chief Sangris	03/12/2010; 1243 PST	Peregrine response to T. Slack e-mail of 01 Dec 2010. (Phone: 867-766-3496. tslack@ykdene.com kelly@ykdene.com)	Answers: Q #1: Was extent of arch-survey the DO-27 area? A: Yes. 2006 arch-survey covered mineral leases (DO-27 and DO-18 environs) + 6 adjoining claims, camp itself and winter spur route between Gravel Pit Lake on main Winter Rd. and DO-27 camp. This was active exploration area at the time, so it was logical to focus on that area. Q #2: Though you state winter drilling is possible, would archaeol. + asst. conduct survey before any drilling is done? It seems as if "look before drilling" is Peregrine's standard. A: Winter is optimum time to conduct drilling, because a site which might be present would be protected during this period. If target should be drilled in winter, it would be typical for area to be checked in summer, should photos indicate moderate or high potential of site presence. (Photos would be sent to consulting archaeol. to obtain expert determination as to whether field survey is warranted. Q #3: Another concern -- enforceability; First Nation concerns are not gen. enforceable under MVRMA's terms + conditions. A: All our activities are governed by terms + conditions of compliance; monitoring plans such as Spill Contingency and Abandonment & Restoration are gen. well enforced by regulators. That has been my experience over many yrs. This is not to say that Peregrine is not open to considering creative mechanism to alleviate concerns... Getting onto same pg. should not be that difficult for Peregrine + YKDFN, as we share commitment to responsible + respectful activity at all times.

YKDFN - Yellowknife	Chief Ed Sangris and Chief Ted Tsetta; also attending: Todd Slack, Regulatory Specialist (new title); Shannon Gault, EA to Chief Sangris	16/11/2011; 1140 MST	In-person meeting with YKDFN Chiefs, 1 EA, 1 regulatory specialist at Explorer Hotel, YK. Main issues raised: (1) Q: "Others use the territory, but where you are working is our territory." (2) Q: "The last time we met (January 2011) you were vague about what was planned." (3) Q: "What are the plans for DO-27 kimberlite; will there be more bulk sampling?" (4) Q: "Why do you have so many permits? This is confusing." (5) Q: "What were the results of your summer programme?"	Peregrine in-person replies: (1) A: No comment req'd; accepted the information. (2) A: We did not have a programme at that time. We do now, so we wanted to discuss what is planned and ask if you are interested in meeting again in January 2012. (3) DO-27 has already been sufficiently bulk sampled; it remains on hold, and perhaps could come into play if we discover new kimberlites of interest. (4) A: Peregrine Diamonds inherited a set of permits, 1 permit with MVLWB and 2 permits with WLWB, as this is an overlap area. The renewed MVLWB permit already has been issued; in its new WLWB application, Peregrine is seeking to consolidate the existing 2 permits into one. (5) A: We generated some interesting drill targets (through ground geophysics); if we discover kimberlites in the upcoming winter programme, this would be the first discovery in the Lac de Gras area in 4-5 years.

Peregrine sent e-mail with letter: 15 October 2010, 1522h. Xpressposted letter. Xpresspost letter processed at postal facility on 19 October 2010.

Poole E-mail: Sent copies of "Guidelines" (consultation) + "Akaitcho Exploration Agreement" template.
Akaitcho Treaty #8 Tribal Corp. - Interim Measures Agreement Implementation Office	Stephanie Poole, Screening Officer	19/10/2010; 1522 PST	Thanked S. Poole for providing the Akaitcho docs. Peregrine e-mail: Asked for suggestions, given Akaitcho understanding of the complexity involved in land-use permits that overlap jurisdictions. Noted that renewals would keep Lac de Gras (and later, the DO-27 project) on care-and-maintenance with same activities as in existing permits.

YKDFN - Yellowknife	Todd Slack, GIS Specialist and liaison for proponents	25/10/2010; 1531 PST	Akaitcho IMA does not "interface" with other consultee groups, though overlap protocols could be developed in future. YKDFN recommends Exploration Agreement as best approach. Asks again about combining all permits (Lac de Gras and DO-27) into a single permit.
