I have no concerns with the product and it appears from its MSDS that it is environmentally safe. Sorry for the brief email, I'm working solely from my phone these days.

Hi Tim,

I think this is the same one. We requested a temporary application to test EcoSoil on roadways last year, and noticed better results than with SoilTac, and would like to use EcoSoil going forward.

I've attached the approvals we received last year, hope that is helpful. Let me know if you need any additional information.

Candace

Hi Candace, Giant has been approved for the use of an alternate dust suppressant in the past. I can't remember the name as I don't have access to my files right now. Is this the same one? If not why can't the previously approved suppressant be used?

Hi Tim,

Please find attached our request to add EcoSoil as a regular dust suppressant at the site.

If you have any questions or concerns, please let me know.

Thanks

Candace
